

At Stephens College

Miss Margaret Evans of Jefferson City, a former student of Stephens College and member of the Sigma Iota Chi sorority, and Robert Mitchell of St. Louis will be married Saturday morning. Misses Arville Guinsbury, Phleiss Stone, Wilma Scruggs, Frances Newkirk, Margaret Morian, Ruth Colision, Ollie Mae Keaton, Ethel Mae Hill, Rosa Brazil, Katherine Edwards, Elaine Feich, Iona Bondurant, Julia Simpson and Alice Dixon will go to Jefferson City Friday to attend the wedding.

Mrs. Thomas Archibald of Carrollton, Mo., passed the week end with her daughter, Marie.

W. R. Scruggs of Harrisonville, Mo.,

will arrive this week to visit his daughter, Wilma.

Mrs. A. D. Hart of Keytesville, Mo., is visiting her daughter, Virginia, who has been ill the last week.

Miss Mary Conway has returned to her home in Carrollton, Mo., after a weeks visit with Miss Marie Archibald.

Mrs. E. E. Durand of Green Ridge, Mo., has returned home after a weeks visit with her daughter, Estyln.

Mrs. Wood of Carrollton, Mo., is visiting her daughter, Cecil.

Your Spring Suit will cost less if you make it yourself at The American College of Dressmaking, Virginia Building. (adv. m. t. w.)

You can phone your subscription to the Missourian by calling 55.

Last Call For Your Old Shoes THURSDAY

Until then we will give you 50 cents, 75 cents and $1 for your old shoes providing you wear them into our store and buy a new pair.

Protection Service

Insurance of All Kinds
Surety Bonds

The Columbia Ins. & Rental Agency

Haden Bldg.

Phone 259

Between Classes

slip over to the Palms and enjoy a good cup of coffee and some of the eats that people talk about.

We have all kinds of things on our menu. Also candies, fruits, hot and cold drinks, tobaccos, etc.

THE PALMS

"Remember how you used to play tennis ball and wrist, on the old corner lot? Don't these warm days set that same feeling into your system again?" Perhaps you need a

Baseball, Glove or Bat

We handle the

Spaulding Line

The Drug Shop

Phone 302

Try Our Quality 'Karmel'

We challenge comparison. Try every other caramel sundae in town—and then try ours. You'll find what we've known all the time—that our way of making caramel produces the very best. It's real genuine caramel, made our way, the Harris way, the quality way. Your taste will tell.

THE HARRIS CONFECTIONERY

Where Quality Begins

New Books

The novels that are scoring immense success—the biggest hits of the month—are here.

CAMPBELL & ALEXANDER

Broadway Near Ninth

WILL THE FIREMEN DANCE TONIGHT?

Earle Kurtz, Fire Chief, Forecasts no Fires in Columbia Tonight. But Motor Truck Is in Readiness.

Chief Earle Kurtz says he expects a large attendance at the firemen's ball tonight in Columbia Hall. The hall has been decorated with flags and ribbons of colored paper. An orchestra of five pieces will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served and cards will be provided for those who wish to sit out a part of the program.

The firemen are hoping that nothing will happen tonight to prevent them attending their ball. The dance is being given for the benefit of the fire department.

IT WAS A BRILLIANT PROGRAM

Miss Kathleen Parlow's Playing Was Clear and Emphatic.

(An Appreciation By Max Silvins Handman).

The people who heard Miss Parlow last night were glad to have heard her, and they hope that she will come back again. Miss Parlow's playing is clear, emphatic, and brilliant, and the program she gave was of such a nature as to show these characteristics of her playing to the best advantage. The program was essentially a Latin-Slavic program, and Miss Parlow played as if she enjoyed playing it vigorously, aggressively, almost assertively, as if she were trying to prove a point. Her tone is clear and transparent, but not warm or passionate.

She began with Saint-Saens, Concerto in B minor. It is an early work of Saint-Saens, brilliant, amazingly clever, requiring all the resourceful ingenuity of the player, but lacking in depth or great unity. The Allegro is quite elastic, but with the chaos of a cascade; the last movement—Moderato e mestoso—gives us a clearly constructed melody, but the theme is quite trivial. Miss Parlow apparently likes Saint-Saens—I think most violinists do—and she painted the concerto with the most brilliant colors of her palette. The performance was exceedingly interesting and enjoyable.

A set of variations—La Folia—by Corelli, and a Prelude and Allegro, by Paganini (Kreisler's arrangement) again gave Miss Parlow an opportunity to show her clear and lucid tone, for eighteenth-century Italian masters were eminently clear thinkers. It was quite astonishing to hear the number of twists and bends which Corelli succeeded in pulling out of his simple theme. Miss Parlow's interpretation succeeded in painting the life.

There were two things by Tchaikowsky on the program: A well-known melody and a rondo. It is not the Tchaikowsky of the symphonies, but a different master, a master of dance and of fairy-like tripping and tumbling. Miss Parlow's playing adequately fits the mood and spirit of these compositions. The visions which were brought up during her playing of the rondo, visions of brilliant ballrooms and dashing maidens, were quite enchanting.

The program was completed with a nocturne in E flat by Chopin and a Wieniawski Polonaise. I never quite understood why violinists have taken the Chopin nocturne out of its piano atmosphere into the realm of the violin. My own feeling is that the piece suffers by it. The violin imparts it a character of brightness and frolicsomeness which the piece in its original setting doesn't have and isn't intended to have. It sounds almost grotesque in spots, but, then, I fancy that the damage is almost irreparable. In this as in the Polonaise, Miss Parlow's brilliancy quite reconciles one to many things.

The announcement invites comparison between Miss Parlow and Miss Minnie Powell, who is also a specimen of the genus "woman violinist." I found Miss Powell in a Brahms concerto, perhaps one of the most difficult things for the violin ever written. Under these conditions comparison becomes quite impossible, except insofar as the choice of a program is an indication of temperament and inclination. In this case Miss Powell's depth of feeling and earnestness of conception are a decided contrast to Miss Parlow's dancing gaiety and scintillating humor. The choice cannot be made except by choosing between Brahms and Brahms or Saint-Saens and Wieniawski. At any rate we have both Miss Parlow and Miss Powell, and it is a good thing to have them.

Maggie May Robnett to Wed.
A marriage license was issued today to Christy R. Franchise of Salem, Mo., and Maggie May Robnett of Columbia.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL APRIL 3

Sorority Races a Feature—Also Boxing and Wrestling.

The fourth annual Athletic Carnival this year will be held April 3. The carnival is the most interesting of the winter athletic events here. The inter-fraternity and the inter-club relays and the inter-sorority relay will be held. There will be other athletic activities and a display of the gymnasium work.

The final matches of the boxing and wrestling tournament which will be given March 27 will be held at the Carnival. Competition in these two events will be keener this year than ever before. The boxing class has fifty members and the wrestling class thirty.

Pocket Billiard Exhibition Tonight.

Jack Priesmeyer, the popular proprietor of Booths, has arranged with Mr. John Saunders, the Oklahoma champion, to give an exhibition of pocket billiards at his place of business at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Everybody welcome. No admission will be charged.

(adv.)

Phone 511 to 55.

Films
Purchased from us will be Developed
Free

Missouri Store
Just Off the Campus on Ninth

We Serve More Than Steak, Bread and Coffee

Square meals are at a premium in most cities. You pay for a meal and get a "lunch."

A glance at our menu shows the quantity of our meals. There's soup, many side dishes and appetizing dessert, besides the meat.

Today we have cooked and waiting for you, a real meal—you will leave the table satisfied. $6 buys a $4.75; $2.50 buys a $3.00 meal ticket.

Broadway Coffee House

Austin G. King, Manager

Why Economize on Milk and Cream?

Columbia Stock Farm offers these wholesale prices:
Milk, one gallon..... 25 cents two or more gallons. 20cts per gallon
Table Cream, one quart..... 25cts two or more quarts. 20cts per quart
Double Cream..... 30cts per quart
Quality Guaranteed.....
L. E. CLINE Phone 22-11.

"This Shoe will be a leader this Spring,"
Mr. Miller Says.

Not Radically Different,
But Correct in Every Particular

THAT'S a point that distinguishes this London-made shoe from the ordinary English shoe offered for spring wear. Up-to-date dressers recognize the individuality of this shoe and wear it, knowing no one can have shoes one whit more stylish. And, too, the value for $2 a pair can't be equaled in another boot.

Black or Tan

Mellows

Breathing A Breath
of Springtime

POSSIBLY never before have the shades of silks been so suggestive of Spring.

The coloring of the earliest flowers has been put into the softest drapable silks.

Dandelion
Damask
Wisteria
Brass

Reseda
Mimosa
Push Orange
Tulip

The shades that come in the newest File silks, cascading crepes, papillons, napkins, valour and more.

You will like to see our display.

Will E. Smith, D. G. Co.

Broadway at Hitt